Chennai, Oct 10: To discuss about the monsoon preparedness Chief Minister Edappadi Palaniswami to hold meeting of officials on October 12.

As the North east monsoon to begin from third week of October, Chief Minister to discuss with district authorities on precautionary measures to be taken.

Chief Minister will also discuss desilting of rivers, ponds, safeguarding people from low line areas during rain.

The Greater Chennai Corporation held a monsoon preparedness meeting to take stock of various works completed and any work pending at the Ripon Building on Tuesday.

The meeting, chaired by Commissioner G. Prakash, was attended by senior officials from Greater Chennai Police, State Highways, CMWSSB, Tangedco, Southern Railway and Revenue department.

The number of localities prone to water stagnation had been brought down to only three from 306 in 2015, 205 in 2017, 53 in 2018 and 19 in 2019.

As part of the efforts to prevent water stagnation, the civic body had taken up clearing of 30 canals, including those belonging to the Public Works Department, at a cost of Rs. 15 crore using modern machinery such as robotic excavators and mini amphibians.

The Corporation had set up a 24-hour control room with 75 staff members to receive complaints of water stagnation, traffic disruption due to tree fall and overflowing of sewage. Heavy duty pumps have been kept at standby to pump out water from 16 subways maintained by the civic body and mechanised tree-cutting machinery are kept ready to clear debris to ensure smooth movement of traffic.

The civic body would be cleaning the stormwater drain maintained by the State Highways department and Southern Railway.

At the meeting, the civic body made clear that permission would not be given for road cutting during the monsoon and advised utilities, including Tangedco, the CMWSSB and telecom companies to speed up in completing all the civic infrastructure development of any underground cable laying work.

New Delhi, Oct 10: India reported 73,272 new coronavirus cases in a span of 24 hours, taking the overall caseload to 69,79,423, while 59,88,822 people have recuperated so far, pushing the recovery rate to 85.81 percent, according to the Union Health Ministry data updated Saturday.

The death toll due to COVID-19 climbed to 1,07,416 with 926 people succumbing to the disease during the period, the data updated at 8 am showed.

For the second day in a row, the number of active coronavirus cases remained below 9 lakh.

There are 8,83,185 active cases of infection in the country which make 12.65 per cent of the total caseload, the data stated.

The COVID-19 case fatality rate was recorded at 1.54 per cent.

India's COVID-19 tally had crossed the 20-lakh mark on August 7, 30 lakh on August 23 and 40 lakh on September 5. It went past 50 lakh on September 16 and crossed 60 lakh on September 28.

According to the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), a cumulative 8,57,98,698 samples have been tested up to October 9. As many as 11,64,018 samples were tested on Friday.

The 926 new fatalities include 302 from Maharashtra, 114 from Karnataka, 68 from Tamil Nadu, 62 from West Bengal, 48 from Uttar Pradesh, 39 from Delhi, 38 from Chhattisgarh, 32 from Punjab, 31 from Andhra Pradesh.

The total 1,07,416 deaths reported so far in the country include 39,732 from Maharashtra, followed by 10,120 from Tamil Nadu, 9,789 from Karnataka, 6,293 from Uttar Pradesh, 6,159 from Andhra Pradesh, 5,692 from Delhi, 5,501 from West Bengal, 3,773 from Punjab and 3,547 from Gujarat.

The health ministry stressed that more than 70 per cent of the deaths occurred due to comorbidities.

“Our figures are being reconciled with the Indian Council of Medical Research,” the ministry said on its website, adding that state-wise distribution of figures is subject to further verification and reconciliation.

Corona broke out in other parts of world, not Wuhan alone: China

Beijing, Oct. 10: China on Friday claimed that the coronavirus broke out in the various parts of the world last year but it was the only one to have reported and acted first, refuting the widely-held view that the deadly contagion originated in Wuhan before turning out to be a pandemic.

China, besides denying the US allegations that COVID-19 has emerged from a bio-lab in Wuhan, also rejected that it emanated from a wet market in the central Chinese city from bats or pangolins before infecting humans.

Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Hua Chunying told a media briefing that “the coronavirus is a new kind of virus as more and more facts emerge as reports reveal, we all know that the epidemic broke out in various places in the world at the end of last year, while China was the first to report the outbreak, identified the pathogen and shared the genome sequence with the world.” Hua’s comments came in response to US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo’s allegations of a cover-up by the ruling Communist Party of China (CPC).

The coronavirus crisis was infinitely made worse by the Chinese Communist Party’s cover-up, Pompeo had said in Tokyo at the QUAD ministerial meeting of the US, India, Australia and Japan on Tuesday.

The Chinese Foreign Ministry statement was made as the World Health Organisation (WHO) was gearing up to probe the origin of the deadly coronavirus.

According to Johns Hopkins Coronavirus Resource Centre, the contagion has infected over 36 million people and killed more than 1 million across the world.

The US is the worst affected country with over 7.6 million cases and more than 2,12,000 deaths.

China has reported 90,736 cases and 4,739 deaths due to COVID-19.

The WHO has given to Beijing a list of global experts to be sent to China to probe the origin of the coronavirus, Hong Kong-based South China Morning Post reported on Thursday. The WHO is awaiting its approval.

In May, the annual meeting of the World Health Assembly (WHA), the Geneva-based WHO’s decision-making body currently headed by India, passed a unanimous resolution to probe the origin of the virus. China also backed the resolution.

In August, a two-member team from the WHO, which visited China, completed the groundwork for the probe into the animal source and reservoirs of the COVID-19 which first emerged in Wuhan in December last year.

Trump’s White House event today, campaign on Monday

Washington, Oct. 10: US President Donald Trump who was convalescing from COVID-19 infection, would hold an in-person event on the White House lawns for the first time since contracting the viral disease on Saturday and hit the election campaign trail from Florida on Monday.

The president took to Twitter to announce his decision to return to the campaigning. “Will be in Sanford, Florida, on Monday for a very BIG RALLY!” he wrote on the microblogging site.

Trump, 74, and First Lady Melania tested positive for COVID-19 last week. The President was taken to a military hospital for treatment, which the White House said was taken as a “matter of abundance caution”.

After spending four days, he came back to the White House on Monday. White House physician Dr. Sean Conley said on Thursday that the President was “safe” to return to public life on Saturday.

Trump will hold his first in-person White House event on Saturday, for the first time since recovering from the COVID-19 infection.

“The President delivers remarks at a peaceful protest for law and order on Saturday,” the White House said late on Friday night as it released his weekend schedule.

The event will take place on the South Lawns of the White House. Trump is expected to address the gathering most likely from his balcony.

Earlier, his campaign said Trump will deliver remarks at a Make America Great Again event in Sanford, Florida on Monday. “All attendees will be given a temperature check, masks which they are encouraged to wear, and access to hand sanitizer.” Announcements from the Trump campaign indicated that the campaign is now going into full swing with its top leaders including Vice President Mike Pence, and the President’s sons Donald Trump Jr and Eric Trump and daughter Ivanka visiting different parts of the country canvassing for him.

World Food Programme wins Nobel Peace Prize

Niamey, Oct. 10: The World Food Programme won the Nobel Peace Prize on Friday for its efforts to combat hunger in regions facing conflict and hardship and at a time when the coronavirus pandemic has driven millions more people to the brink of starvation.

The Rome-based United Nations agency has long specialised in getting assistance to some of the world’s most dangerous and precarious places, from air-dropping food in South Sudan and Syria to creating an emergency delivery service that kept aid flowing even as antiviral restrictions grounded commercial flights.

It provided assistance to almost 100 million people in 88 countries last year.

With this year’s award, the (committee) wishes to turn the eyes of the world to the millions of people who suffer from or face the threat of hunger, said Berit Reiss-Andersen, the chair of the Norwegian Nobel Committee, announcing the award in Oslo.

The World Food Programme plays a key role in multilateral cooperation on making food security an instrument of peace. In honoring the UN food programme, the Nobel peace committee was highlighting the need for global solidarity and multilateralism at a time of increasing polarisation and go-it-alone nationalism.

The head of the organisation said his entire team deserved the award.

I know I’m not deserving of an award like this, but all the men and women around the world in the World Food Programme and our partners who put their lives on the line every day, David Beasley said by phone from Niger, where he was visiting on Friday.

The organisation has long been headed by an American, and U.S. President Donald Trump nominated the former Republican governor of South Carolina for the post in 2017.

The Nobel Committee said that the problem of hunger has again become more acute in recent years, not least because the pandemic has added to the hardship already faced by millions of people around the world.

The coronavirus pandemic has contributed to a strong upsurge in the number of victims of hunger in the world. In total, WFP estimates that 690 million people suffer some form of hunger in the world today.

It was the ninth award for the UN or one of its agencies. Secretary-General Antonio Guterres said he was delighted the award went to the world’s first responder on the frontlines of food insecurity.

60,000 Chinese soldiers in Indian border, warns Pompeo

Washington, Oct 10: China has amassed 60,000 troops on India’s northern border, US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo has said as he hit out at Beijing for its “bad behaviour” and the threats it poses to the Quad countries.

The foreign ministers from the Indo-Pacific nations known as the Quad group - the US, Japan, India and Australia - met in Tokyo on Tuesday in what was their first in-person talks since the coronavirus pandemic began.

The meeting took place in the backdrop of China’s aggressive military behaviour in the Indo-Pacific, South China Sea and along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in eastern Ladakh.

“The Indians are seeing 60,000 Chinese soldiers on their northern border, Pompeo told The Guy Benson Show in an interview on Friday after his return from Tokyo wherein he attended the second Quad ministerial with his counterparts from India, Japan and Australia.

“I was with my foreign minister counterparts from India, Australia, and Japan a format that we call the Quad, four big democracies, four powerful economies, four nations, each of whom has real risk associated with the threats imposed attempting to be imposed by the Chinese Communist Party. And they see it in their home countries too,” he said.

Trump admin targets diversity hiring by companies

Washington, Oct. 10: American companies promising to hire more Black employees in leadership roles and teach their workforce about racism are getting a message from President Donald Trump's administration: Watch your step if you want to keep doing business with the federal government. Trump's Labor Department is using a 55-year-old presidential order spurred by the Civil Rights Movement to scrutinize companies like Microsoft and Wells Fargo over their public commitments to diversity. Government letters sent last week warned both companies against using discriminatory practices to meet their goals. Microsoft has brushed off the warnings, publicly disclosing the government inquiry and defending its plan to boost Black leadership. But advocates for corporate diversity initiatives worry that more cautious executives will halt or scale back efforts to make their workplaces more inclusive out of fear that a wrong step could jeopardize lucrative public contracts. The agency has oversight over the hiring practices of thousands of federal contractors that employ roughly a quarter of all American workers.

For tech companies that don't care about these issues, the pronouncements are a dog whistle that they can carry on discriminating the way they already have, said Laszlo Bock, an executive who ran Google's human resources division for more than a decade and now leads software startup Humu. Bock said those who do care, however, will see Trump's actions as political sound and fury" that will be hard to enforce.

It's not at all illegal to strive to have a workforce that reflects the makeup of your nation, Bock said.

Democratic President Lyndon B. Johnson's 1965 order was designed to adjust the imbalances of hiring that are a legacy of our racist past, said employment attorney and public contracting expert Daniel Abrahams. Trump is turning it around into an instrument of white grievances, he added.

frontline, refrain from unilaterally changing the situation on the ground and avoid taking any actions that may further complicate matters.

The military talks were held with a specific agenda of exploring ways to implement a five-point agreement reached between External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar and his Chinese counterpart Wang Yi at a meeting in Moscow on September 10 on the sidelines of a Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) conclave.

The pact included measures like quick disengagement of troops, avoiding action that could escalate tensions, adherence to all agreements and protocols on border management and steps to restore peace along the LAC.

Days after the military talks, the two sides held diplomatic talks under the framework of Working Mechanism for Consultation and Coordination (WMCC) on border affairs, but no concrete outcome emerged from the negotiation on September 30.

NAM not forum to raise bilateral issues, asserts India

United Nations, Oct. 10: The Non-Aligned Movement never was and can never be a platform for pursuits that undermine the territorial integrity of a State by another State, India said on Friday, asserting that individual nations must think before raising issues not on the agenda of the forum.

Minister of State for External Affairs V. Muraleedharan said the Non-Aligned Movement (NAM) had the potential to take the lead in addressing the primary issues of the current times that demand global cooperation.

"On the other hand, if we take up issues that divide rather than unite us, reducing our Movement to a platform for venting bilateral grievances or for embarrassing fellow Members, we will soon become a weak and irrelevant entity, with no say at all in global decision making," he said in his address to the virtual Ministerial Meeting of the Non-Aligned Movement.

He said individual members must "stop and think" before raising issues that are not on the agenda and which find no resonance in the wider membership.

"NAM never was and never can be a platform for pursuits aimed at undermining the territorial integrity of a State by another State," he said.

Muraleedharan added that when the NAM members stand together and speak in one voice, for instance in the Movement's steadfast commitment to the cause of Palestine, "we can and do have a decisive influence on global outcomes - we can be a force for good." The COVID-19 pandemic has reminded "us of our inter-connectedness, and dependence on each other," he said.

"We cannot fight this adversary alone. It is the people of our countries that stand to be hardest hit by this pandemic and its consequences. Just as this disease does not respect borders, our fight against it must be coordinated to be effective," he said.

Muraleedharan said unfortunately the pandemic was not the only pressing challenge of the current times.

"Terrorism and their enablers continue to spread their tentacles unabated. Misinformation and fake news are wreaking havoc on social cohesion and collective security, he said.

"Climate change has become an existential threat, especially to the most vulnerable SIDS (Small Island Developing States) countries. Humanitarian emergencies are straining capacities. Cybersecurity threats and the uneven impact of frontier technologies are causing turbulence. Development concerns remain paramount for the vast majority of the world's population, he said.

The strength of the NAM family lies in its diversity, its shared developmental experience, and its youthful populations brimming with hope and aspirations, he said.

With the year 2020 marking the 65th anniversary of the landmark Bandung Conference that resulted in the adoption of the founding principles of the Non-Aligned Movement, he said the milestone was a good time to reflect.

Indian-origin billionaire brothers on Queen's honours list

London, Oct. 10: A pair of Indian-origin billionaire brothers, a leading Oxford University academic and a septuagenarian fundraiser fondly referred to as the Skipping Sikh, lead the "most ethnically diverse" Queen's Birthday Honours List released on Saturday.

Zuber and Mohsin Issa, who recently hit the headlines with their multi-million-pound acquisition of the UK's supermarket chain Asda, have both been honoured with CBEs for services to business and charity.

The brothers from Blackburn, whose parents moved to the UK from Gujarat in the 1970s, own the Euro Garages chain of petrol stations as part of their EG Group business.

They are joined by Yadvinder Singh Malhi, Professor of Ecosystem

Science at the University of Oxford, who receives a CBE (Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire) for his services to ecosystem science. Malhi had been appointed Trustee of the Natural History Museum in London earlier this year.

British Indians honoured with an OBE (Officer of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire) include Nilay Shah, Professor of Chemical Engineering at Imperial College London for services to the decarbonisation of the UK economy, and Dr Sanjiv Nichani, Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Healing Little Hearts for services to medicine and charity.

The list, which had been deferred from its usual early June release to consider nominations of people playing crucial points in eastern Ladakh.

The top military brass reviewed the situation in eastern Ladakh and deliberated on key issues to be flagged at the talks on Monday, the sources said.

Amy Chief Gen M.M. Naravane and several top military officials were present in the meeting.

At the talks, the two sides are also expected to look into further steps to maintain stability on the ground and avoid any action that may trigger fresh tension in the region, they said.

A senior official of the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) is set to be part of the Indian delegation at the talks which will be led by Lt Gen Harinder Singh, the commander of the Leh-based 14 Corps of the Indian Army, the sources said.

Following the last round of military talks on September 21, the two sides announced a slew of decisions including not to send more troops to the Trump's team later countered with a call to hold the debates as scheduled once the president's doctor said he would be cleared to hold public events beginning on Saturday.

But the commission said it would not reverse its decision not to have the candidates on stage together, citing an abundance of caution with health concerns particularly for the town-hall-style debate that was set to feature questions from average voters.

The third debate, scheduled for October 22 in Nashville, Tennessee, is still on.

India-China 7th round of military level talks on Oct. 12

New Delhi, Oct. 10: The top military brass on Friday reviewed the security situation in eastern Ladakh as well as strategies for the seventh round of Corps Commander-level talks with the Chinese PLA which is scheduled on October 12, people familiar with the developments said.

The Corps Commander talks are taking place with a specific agenda of firming up a roadmap for disengagement of troops from the friction

2nd presidential debate is officially cancelled

Washington, Oct. 10: The second presidential debate between President Donald Trump and Democrat Joe Biden is officially off.

The nonpartisan Commission on Presidential Debates confirmed on Friday that the October 15 faceoff would be scrapped. The decision was made a day after the commission announced the debate would take place "virtually" because Trump had contracted the coronavirus.

Trump balked at holding the debate in that format, and Biden scheduled a town hall with ABC News for that night once Trump said he would not participate.

U-21 footballers positive

The qualifying match between host Iceland and Italy in the Under-21 European Championship has been postponed because of positive COVID-19 tests among the travelling team. The Italian delegation has been put in quarantine by Icelandic health authorities. The Italian soccer federation says "two players and member of staff of the under-21 side tested positive for COVID-19 after a swab test undertaken upon arrival at the airport." It was unclear when UEFA could reschedule the game.

Italy is second and Iceland third in the group after six matches. Ireland leads the group. The final tournament is scheduled for next year in Hungary and Slovenia. It is split between a group stage in March and knockout rounds starting in May.

Slovakia sees new surge

Coronavirus infections in Slovakia have hit a record high for the third straight day, reaching almost 1,200 in a day for the first time. The Health Ministry says the day-to-day increase of those infected reached 1,184 on Thursday, up from the previous record of 1,037 set a day earlier.

In reaction to the record numbers, the government announced Friday that it will deploy 267 service members to help health authorities with contact tracing, conduct tests and distribute protective equipment. Prime Minister Igor Matovic said more restrictive measures will be imposed next week if the surge doesn't slow down over the weekend. Slovakia has had 16,910 reported cases since the start of the pandemic, with 57 deaths.

China joins COVAX

China has officially joined the World Health Organization's (WHO) COVAX alliance to equitably distribute COVID-19 vaccines around the globe, ending speculation that it plans to supply them on its own to developing countries to improve its image dented by the pandemic since it emerged in Wuhan in December last year.

According to the WHO, countries should join the COVID-19 Vaccine Global Access Facility (COVAX Facility) by September 18 but not later than October 9 with upfront payments. On October 8, China and Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, signed an agreement, officially joining COVAX, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Hua Chunying said in a statement on Friday.

Nepal crosses one lakh

Nepal's COVID-19 cases crossed 100,000 on Friday after 2,059 new coronavirus infections were detected in a single day across the country, a senior health ministry official said. The country has also seen 10 new coronavirus-related deaths, taking the number of fatalities to 600.

During a virtual press meet, spokesperson for the Ministry of Health and Population, Dr. Jageshwar Gautam, said that 2,059 new cases of coronavirus were detected, pushing the national tally to 100,676. The official said a total of 13,279 tests were conducted in the last 24 hours. The Kathmandu Valley, which has emerged as a hot spot for the deadly virus, recorded 1,409 cases in one day. There are currently 27,053 active patients.

US, Russia close to deal on nuclear warhead freeze

Washington, Oct. 10: U.S. and Russian negotiators have agreed in principle to continue freezing their nuclear warhead stockpiles in a bid to salvage their last remaining arms control pact before it expires next year, a person familiar with the talks said Friday.

The person said it's not yet clear if the agreement for a freeze will succeed or translate into an extension of the New START treaty that expires in February. But, if it works, the person said an agreement could be announced before the Nov. 3 presidential election with an eye toward extending the accord and eventually bringing China into it, a longtime Trump administration demand.

The person said President Donald Trump and Russian leader Vladimir Putin have signed off on the freeze, but negotiators still need to iron out details, including compliance and verification issues. The person spoke to reporters after the last round of U.S.-Russia arms control talks in Helsinki this week.

The person, who was not authorized to discuss the negotiations publicly and spoke on condition of anonymity, said follow-up discussions between Washington and Moscow would take place next week. The Russians have been told that if a freeze is not agreed to in the coming weeks, the United States may harden its conditions.

Word of a potential freeze comes as Trump is seeking foreign policy victories during a difficult reelection campaign against former Vice President Joe Biden, who has vowed to extend New START even without Chinese participation.

An announcement ahead of the election could raise eyebrows, coming as U.S. intelligence officials say Russia favours Trump and has been working to denigrate Biden.

The person familiar with the negotiations said Nov. 3 was not a drop-dead date for a freeze agreement with Russia and stressed that the Trump administration would continue to negotiate no matter what the result of the election. But the person said the U.S. would be looking for additional Russian concessions should negotiations drag out beyond the vote.

Currently, the U.S. envisions a broad cap on nuclear warheads under which the numbers of multiple weapons systems could be adjusted with some flexibility, according to the person.

India reports 73,272 new coronavirus cases

New Delhi, Oct. 10: India reported 73,272 new coronavirus cases, taking the overall caseload to 69,79,423, while 59,88,822 people have recuperated so far, pushing the recovery rate to 85.81 percent, according to the Union Health Ministry data updated Saturday.

The death toll due to COVID-19 climbed to 1,07,416 with 926 people succumbing to the disease in a span of 24 hours, the data updated at 8 a.m., showed.

For the second day in a row, the number of active COVID-19 cases remained below 9 lakh.

There are 8,33,185 active cases of coronavirus infection in the country which make 12.65 per cent of the total caseload, the data stated. The COVID-19 case fatality rate was recorded at 1.54 per cent. India's COVID-19 tally had crossed the 20-lakh mark on August 7, 30 lakh on August 23 and 40 lakh on September 5. It went past 50 lakh on September 16 and crossed 60 lakh on September 28.

According to the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), a cumulative 8,57,98,698 samples have been tested up to October 9. As many as 11,64,018 samples were tested on Friday.

Trump and the Maharaja..!

It was while President Trump was recovering from his tryst with the virus and looking at the newspapers, that he saw in the corner of the Lincoln Room, in the White House, a Maharaja! Now there are many who will say that the virus, it causes one to be delirious and I will grant you it does, but Trump, he swears it was a Maharaja, "Whoa! Whoa!" shouted the American president, "What are you doing here Maharaja?" "I have come to give you some advice, Mr President, but first you should get your Income Tax officials, Police Chief and even Judges to come and attend this meeting!" The poor President who despite news to the contrary is still recovering from the deadly attack, looked first at the Maharaja and wondered if he was hallucinating and Vice President Pence should take over, "Why should I call all these officials here?" he asked feebly. "Because of this," said the Maharaja as he opened different newspapers and also the President's laptop, and showed him dozens of cartoons about the President,

"They are making fun of you Mr President!" "Yes, yes, I know," mumbled Trump. "Which is why you should call all these officials! Once your Revenue Department go into the accounts of all the cartoonists, once police jail all the journalists, and your courts arrest your activists for sedition, or writing under the influence of drugs, then you will have everything under control!" "Is that how you did things Maharaja?" asked Trump. "Did?" asked the Maharaja. "Yes, did!" mumbled Trump, "I know you guys are no more in power and even your titles have been taken away!" "You are very mistaken Mr President, our titles may be officially taken away, but we still reign as Maharajas with all the power and privileges of before!" "You mean you can still arrest a journalist for sedition because he wrote against you?" asked the American President incredulously. "Yes Mr President!"

"And you can still put an activist in jail on trumped up charges of drug dealing? And turn revenue officials on those who speak against you?" asked Trump getting up from his bed and staring at the Maharaja. "Yes Mr President!" "And you reign as a Maharaja over your kingdom?" "Yes Mr President, but for the official records we call it a Democratic Republic!" said the Maharaja with a grin. "Now go ahead Mr President, do what I do, arrest your critics for sedition! Say, that their funds are coming from England!" "England?" asked a puzzled Trump. "That England is trying to get back its former territory! And you know what's the best part?" "What?" asked Trump. "The people believe everything!" "That's true!" said Trump, and this time both the Maharaja and the American President laughed out loud...!

Famous Food Sprats

The Baltic Sea is full of sprats, so it is not a coincidence that this fish can be found in almost every restaurant and shop. There are many dishes made with sprats, but the most popular and simplest is Kiluvõileib, also known as a sprat sandwich. The recipe is simple—dark bread, sprat, boiled egg and some sauce. It might not look attractive, but you can be sure it is delicious. Otherwise, why would Estonians eat it for centuries?

Telemetric patient monitoring system installed at Chidambaram GH

Cuddalore, Oct.10:

Around 15 Telemetric patient monitoring systems bought at a total cost of Rs.75 lakh (each costing Rs.5 lakh), have been installed at the Chidambaram Raja Muthiah Medical College Hospital. The sophisticated medical equipment will enable the doctors to monitor the ECG, heart rate, respiratory rate, oxygen saturation, and body temperature, of patients from the control room through computers attached with LCD screens. Since, all the patients are monitored from the control room, it saves doctors from contacting the virus, said the District Collector Chandrasekar Sahamuri during his inspection at the hospital. The government has been planning to instal CCTVs at the patients' wards to watch their health condition from the control room, said the Collector.

The sophisticated medical equipment enables the patients to undergo treatment without any difficulty, said the Collector. The district administration in joint association with several NGOs has been taking round-the-clock treatment of the patients to relieve them mental depression, anxiety and fatigueness, said the Collector.

The Collector also made an appeal to make use of the facility available in the hospital and they could contact the mobile phone number: 95554-00900.

During the inspection Additional Collector Rajagopal Sunkara, Deputy Director-Medicals Dr.Ramesh Babu, Deputy Director-Health Dr.Senthil Kumar, the district's Information Center Officer Arunmozhi and various other doctors, nurses and employees of the hospital were present.

Capital subsidies will not rev up the Electronics Industry

Minister for Communications, Electronics & Information Technology Ravi Shankar Prasad has expressed satisfaction that the numbers of mobile phone manufacturers in India have increased from two to 60 in the last five years. In parallel, Secretary Ajay Prakash Shawney has said that 90 percent of the mobile phones being sold in the country are being manufactured here. Further we have had a stream of news reports saying that electronics majors have submitted proposals to invest large amounts in India. Similar announcement was made in 2015 that these companies will invest 17 billion dollars. These are encouraging statements. However, the electronics majors were already present in India in 2016 when the Make in India program was launched. Foxconn and Lenovo had given contracts to local companies to manufacture their products in Sri City, Andhra Pradesh and Sripurumbudur, Tamil Nadu; and Samsung had its own manufacturing facility in Noida, Uttar Pradesh. Question is this: Why have they not expanded in the last five years. In particular, a production facility of Motorola, a subsidiary of Lenovo, has been lying closed in Chennai. Lenovo has not even restarted its existing plant, let alone making new investment. The announcement made in 2015 that these companies will invest 17 billion dollars has clearly fallen flat.

A top chamber of commerce, Assocham has said in a report that the mobile phones being "manufactured" in India are actually only last line assembly just as the homemaker brings flour, pulse and vegetables and cooks a last line meal in the kitchen. This assembly work is not "manufacture." The objective of Make in India and Atma Nirbhar Bharat schemes is to create self-dependence. These manufacturers continue to be dependent on the import of parts. This grim reality is seen in the electronics imports of 55 billion dollars against exports of mere nine billion dollars in 2018-19. We are nowhere near becoming Atma Nirbhar. The truth is that there has been no progress since 2015.

I studied eight posts regarding the reasons of slow progress of electronics manufacturing in India on the internet. Six of eight posts complained about the unavailability of skilled workers. One post explained that our colleges were asking the students to "learn" the function of the 40 legs in an Intel chip—which they needed to memorize. Then the commentator says: "Even if the student were to become a repair technician, he wouldn't be required to store the function of each of the parts of the dozens of varieties of chips in his mind. Instead, asking the student how he would use the integrated circuit to create a device would have been a hundredfold more stimulating, constructive, and productive." Alas! The Professors in our Government Colleges themselves do not know how to use the chips; and have no interest in learning it either because their salaries are secured as long as they churn out certificate-holding useless graduates.

Two of the eight post complained about the cumbersome regulatory framework. I was told by a manufacturer from Bengaluru that the Government has recently introduced a requirement that every export consignment would require to be accompanied by a certificate from a Chartered Accountant. The manufacturer has to now do additional paper work to get the certificate. This takes an additional two days in delivery. The Government is creating such new roadblocks at every step—the beneficiary of which, one may surmise, is the grease money obtained by the officials. Other reasons mentioned in the posts were legal hurdles in implementation of contracts, cost of capital, high rates of tax and cost of land and electricity. I am not convinced of these reasons but there is no occasion to discuss them here.

The Government has made a laudable effort and made a scheme to provide 50 to 75 percent capital subsidy for investments in new electronics manufacturing facilities. This is not going to work. It is like giving oxygen to a person dying from malnutrition. As said above, the main roadblocks are our education system and government regulations. Investments will not come unless we solve these problems just as they have not come after the launch of Make in India in 2016. It must be remembered that our bureaucracy gets more opportunities to get grease money in disbursing these subsidies.

Perhaps the Government is being driven by the bad advice given by the World Bank. The Bank and other multilateral agencies like the United Nations are driven by the interests of the Industrial Countries. The Governments of the countries, in turn, are driven by the Multinational Corporations. These Corporations have no interest in developing manufacturing in India. Their objective, on the contrary, is to kill Make in India so that they can supply electronics goods from their plants in Vietnam and Taiwan where there is greater availability of skilled labour and less extortion by the bureaucracy. Thus, in its recent World Development Report, the World Bank has advised the Government of India to reduce import duties. Interestingly, the World Bank has itself said in the same report that the share of international trade in global manufactured goods had increased from 43 percent in 2000 to 53 percent in 2008 when the global financial crisis took place. It declined to 45 percent in 2015 after the crisis. Now, it can only further contract after the Corona Pandemic. Therefore, the Government should not run after foreign investors as advised by the World Bank. The Government must instead think through why would foreign capital come into India when our own High Net Worth Individuals are leaving for better pastures?

The Government should solve the basic problems of the economy instead of giving capital subsidies. The Professors of the Government Colleges do not themselves have practical knowledge. Their salaries are secure. They do not want to teach. Further, the private universities are unable to charge adequate fees to employ competent teachers since the cost of education in the Government Colleges is less. There is a need free the Government Colleges of the decrepit Professors. Secondly, the Government must reduce the extortion by the bureaucracy. Thirdly, the Government will have to reduce the social divisions in the society and have a constructive dialogue with the opposition; and improve the environment—water and air in particular. Investments—foreign- or domestic—will take place when we provide pleasant living conditions. The present hype about the proposals of foreign investments will certainly prove a pipe dream.

				Risk Factors - Overseas Investments: As the Scheme will invest in global markets investors will be exposed to several risk factors that are not relevant for the Scheme that invests in Indian securities. A few types of risks are: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Foreign Currency Exposure: The Scheme may invest in overseas securities that are issued and traded in foreign currencies. As a result, their values may be affected by changes in exchange rates between foreign currencies and the Indian Rupee as well as between currencies of countries other than India. Also restrictions if any on currency trading that may be imposed will have an adverse effect on the value of the securities of companies that trade or operate in such countries.• Country Risk: This refers to inability of a country to meet its financial obligations for economic, political or geo-political reasons. The degree of this risk may vary from country to country.• Event Risk: Diplomatic and political developments, including rapid and adverse political changes, social instability, regional conflicts, terrorism, and war, could affect the economies, industries and securities and currency markets, and the value of the Scheme's investments. These factors are extremely difficult, if not impossible, to predict.• Restrictions Imposed Overseas: Changes in local regulation can affect the local financial markets and restrictions on investment by overseas investors can be imposed; introduction of exchange controls and immobilization of foreigner financial assets can occur.• Emerging Markets Risk: Emerging market countries include those currently considered to be developing by the World Bank, the International Finance Corporation, the United Nations, the countries' authorities or countries that are treated as emerging markets by index service providers at the global level. These countries typically are in the Asia Pacific region, Eastern Europe, Central and South America and Africa. Emerging markets are smaller than developed markets. They are characterized by high degree of market-price and currency volatility and sharp price declines are not unusual. These Markets may become illiquid for short or extended periods.• Risk of Change in Regulations: If the Government of India, RBI and/ or SEBI decide to alter the regulatory framework for investment in overseas financial assets by mutual funds, it may have an impact on the Scheme's ability to adhere to the investment objective. If and when such an eventuality materializes, the Trustee reserves the right to alter the investment objective of the Scheme or wind up the Scheme.• ADR/GDR<ul style="list-style-type: none">• ADR / GDR's are exposed to all the risks that have been highlighted above under 'Risk Factors - Overseas Investments'. Apart from the above ADR/GDR's may also have low liquidity and be dependent on market makers. (In case of ADRs, liquidity may be more than in the case of GDRs and lower than in the underlying stock listed in India (NSE and/or BSE), as ADRs are usually listed either on the NYSE or Nasdaq).• ADRs/GDRs cannot be held in the name of the Mutual Fund; they have to be held in the name of a custodian (usually domiciled outside India)
				Risk Factors Associated with Investments in REITs and InvITs: Market Risk: REITs and InvITs investments are volatile and subject to price fluctuations on a daily basis owing to factors impacting the underlying assets. AMC/Fund Manager's will do the necessary due diligence but actual market movements may be at variance with the anticipated trends. Liquidity Risk: As the liquidity of the investments made by the Scheme(s) could, at times, be restricted by trading volumes, settlement periods, dissolution of the trust, potential delisting of units on the exchange etc, the time taken by the Mutual Fund for liquidating the investments in the scheme may be high in the event of immediate redemption requirement. Investment in such securities may lead to increase in the scheme portfolio risk. Reinvestment Risk: Investments in REITs & InvITs may carry reinvestment risk as there could be return back of funds by the Trusts in form of buyback of units or dividend pay-outs, etc. Consequently, the proceeds may get invested in assets providing lower returns. Regulatory/Legal Risk: REITs and InvITs being new asset classes, rights of unit holders may differ from existing capital market asset classes under Indian Law. Also the regulations can evolve and the changes may have an adverse effect on existing holders of these instruments. The above are some of the common risks associated with investments in REITs & InvITs. There can be no assurance that a Scheme's investment objectives will be achieved, or that there will be no loss of capital. Investment results may vary substantially on a monthly, quarterly or annual basis. The above changes will be applicable to all the relevant sections of SID and KIM and the respective sections shall stand modified accordingly.
In order to achieve investment objectives, the corpus of the Scheme can be invested in any (but not exclusively) of the following securities:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Equity and equity-related securities including investment in overseas securities, convertible bonds and debentures and warrants carrying the right to obtain equity shares and derivative instruments.• Debt securities of the Government of India, State and local Governments, Government agencies, Statutory bodies, Public Sector undertakings, Scheduled Commercial Banks, Non- Banking Finance Companies, Development Financial Institutions, Corporate Entities.• REITs/InvITs and such other securities as may be permitted by SEBI from time to time.• Money market instruments including but not limited to, Treasury Bills, Commercial Paper, Certificates of Deposits, Repo / Reverse Repo Agreements, TREPS , etc.,• The non-convertible part of convertible securities.• Units of mutual funds as may be permitted by regulation.• Any other like instruments as may be permitted by RBI /SEBI / such other Regulatory authority from time to time.• The securities mentioned above and such other securities the Scheme is permitted to invest in, could be listed, unlisted, privately placed, secured, unsecured, rated or unrated and of any maturity bearing fixed-rate or floating coupon rate. The securities may be acquired through Initial Public Offerings (IPOs), secondary market operations, private placement, rights offers or negotiated deals.• The Scheme shall invest in the instruments rated as investment grade or above by a recognised rating agency. In case, the instruments are not rated, specific approval of the Board of Directors of the Investment manager or a committee approved by the Trustee company shall be obtained.Apart from the asset allocation change, all other features and terms & conditions of the Scheme will remain unchanged.
Rationale : We are proposing a change in asset allocation to include flexibility to invest up to 20% of assets in Other equities including Overseas securities, expand the Services sector investment universe to include Overseas securities and to invest up to 10% in REITs / InvITS. The reason for the proposed change is as under: i. The Services sector has been disproportionately affected in the wake of COVID19 and the ensuing lockdown. Segments of the sector like Financial services, Retailing, Hospitality, Staffing, have been badly affected and it is expected that the recovery is going to be prolonged. In view of the above, ability to invest in non-service sector stocks will provide a lot of flexibility to manage the Fund. Overseas stock markets especially the US markets have shown great resilience to COVID19. The US Services sector and consumers have embraced the move to digital and have made enormous technological advancements resulting in consistent high growth rates for these firms. Essentially the technology and services sectors have combined to become a powerful growth machine. The COVID crisis has only enabled the sector to further extend its dominance using its technological advantage. This trend is going to keep growing and the pace is expected to only increase in the wake of COVID19. Ability to invest in this sector / securities will provide diversification to the portfolio as well as greater flexibility. The detailed risk factors of Overseas Investments will be made available in the Scheme Information Document. ii. Incorporate provision for investing in REITs and INVITS up to 10%. The reason for the above is that REITs and INVITS are fast gaining popularity and are becoming an asset class by themselves. REITs and INVITS provide opportunities for both equity and debt investing. As more and more real estate and infra companies enter this segment the category is expected to see good growth. It also provides opportunities for the investor to partake in the real estate and infra sector with much lower risk as these projects which qualify as REITs / INVITS have stable cash flows and high dividend payouts. Enabling the Scheme to have the ability to invest in this segment will provide value to the investors.
Since the proposed change is equivalent to change in the fundamental attributes of the Sundaram Services Fund as per Regulation 18(15A) of the SEBI (Mutual Funds) Regulations, 1996, unitholders of the Scheme who are not in agreement with the proposed change are given an option to exit i.e. redeem their units or switch to other Schemes of Sundaram Mutual Fund available for subscription without payment of exit load between 12/Oct/2020 to 12/Nov/2020 (both days inclusive). Investors wishing to exit can submit redemption requests at any of the Official Point of Acceptance of Sundaram Mutual Fund or submit online on any business day during the exit period. The redemption requests received will be processed at NAV as on the date of receipt of request subject to applicable cut-off time. The redemption proceeds will be mailed /credited within 10 business days of receipt of valid redemption request. Unitholders may note that the offer to exit is merely an option and not compulsory. However, the exit option will not be available to those unitholders who have pledged their units and on which the Mutual Fund has marked a lien unless the release of pledge is obtained and communicated to the Mutual Fund/ Registrar before applying for redemption. Unitholders of the Scheme who have not opted to exit or switch-out on or before 12/Nov/2020 (applicable cut-off time.) shall be deemed to have consented to the proposed change. The updated Scheme Information Document shall be made available with our Investor Service Centres (ISCs) and also displayed on the website www.sundarammutual.com after the completion of duration of exit option. All other terms and conditions of the Scheme Information Document / Key Information Memorandum / Statement of Additional Information will remain unchanged.

Review meeting on ground water level, quality & pollution held

Chennai, Oct 10:

A Policy Review with regulatory impact and Panel discussion on implementation of the "Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974 as amended in 1978 & 1988 (New)" was held under the Chairmanship of C. Ponnaiyan, Vice Chairman, State Development Policy Council (SDPC), Chennai.

Anil Meshram, Member Secretary, State Development Policy Council, Dr. B.C. Archana Kalyani, IFS., Head of Division (Land Use), Senior officials from Secretariat Department, Stakeholder Departments and domain experts were also present at the meeting at the SDPC Video Conference Hall.

The topics discussed includes 'Functions of TNPCB', 'Water pollution prevention and control area', 'Establishment of common effluent treatment plants', 'Ground water level, quality & pollution in Tamil Nadu', 'River Restoration' and ends with the presentation on 'Role of water users association in coverage of water policy target'.

The Vice Chairman, SDPC has highlighted the initiatives taken by the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu Edappadi K. Palaniswami in water harvesting, following the footsteps of Jayalithaa and realizing her dreams.

One such scheme is "Kudimaramathu" which is for the people and by the people to harness water in waterbodies. For the year 2020-2021, an amount of Rs.500 Crores has been allocated to take up 1387 works in 34 districts under "Kudimaramathu".

To conserve the natural resources of water the Government of Tamil Nadu established Tamil Nadu Pollution Control Board (TNPCB) in pursuance of the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974. One of its main duty is to intervene and stop activities such as Pollution of Water, Air and Land. The Government has taken many steps to protect water bodies, prevent encroachments and resolve water sharing issues between States like Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka and Kerala.

Tamil Nadu Pollution Control Board has planted about 333 lakhs seedlings during the years 2012-2019 at a cost of Rs.61.522 Crores. Tamil Nadu Pollution Control Board has supported Forests Department to implement various environmental schemes to the tune of Rs.90.36 Crores.

Every year India receives 4200 Cubic Km of water through rain and from the melting snows; in which 1123 Cubic Km of surface water is being used and in addition 263 Cubic Km of ground water is being pumped out. Ground water level is declining at a rate of 1-2 m every year. For increasing the surface water there are constraints like availability of land and environmental issues.

It is no longer possible to construct lakes or dams for storing water. Declining ground water level has caused a large empty space underground. If that space can be used more quantity of surface water can be stored and can be utilized when needed. Now the focus has to shift towards ground water recharge so that full potential of available water can be made use of. At every surface water streams like lakes, ponds etc., drilling of bore holes upto 1 or 2 fracture zones below Ground Level may be an option. During 1970's much emphasis was made on providing contour bunds across agriculture lands by agriculture engineering department for harvesting rain water. Now this can be further improved by digging trenches upstream of contour bunds and providing ground water recharge boreholes upto next fracture zones.

In the concluding remarks the Vice Chairman appreciated the speakers Venkatachalam, IFS, (Retd), Raja, Sajid Hussan, Gopalakrishnan, Viswanathan and Sudharshan for presenting the need for Ground Water its protection water pollution and its treatment, importance of Pollution Control Board and its power to penalize the offenders who pollute Air, Water and Land.

Vice Chairman further requested the departments and institutions for coordination among the line departments to achieve Vision 2030 and SDG goal 6.

Delivering the convocation address virtually at the Vellore Institute of Technology's (VIT) 35th annual convocation (virtual convocation) on October 9, 2020 (Friday), Dr. K. Kasturirangan emphasized that as inheritors of a society which blossomed up great values for life and a deep concern for human development, students should intensely aspire for deepening and broadening your knowledge, learn to experience the power of collective team work, and always be guided by higher values which you believe in.

Quoting the American writer and futurist Alvin Toffler, Dr. Kasturirangan said that the illiterates of the 21st century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot, learn, unlearn and relearn.

Pointing out that with advances in technologies such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) and augmented reality, an increasing number of hybrid jobs where a human's vocational skills will complement the capabilities of high-tech equipment could be foreseen, Dr. Kasturirangan said that higher education system is therefore necessary to prepare students for such jobs. "Vocational education will thus become an integral part of the larger vision of liberal education," he added.

The Kasturirangan Education Policy Committee also speaks about internationalisation as India needs to attract more students from foreign countries to its higher education institutions," he said.

"There are a lot of Indian students studying various courses in about 90 countries in the world. Many of them go abroad for medical education as there is scarcity of seats in Medicine. I hope realising this problem our Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi will increase the availability of seats in the country so that our students need not go to countries like China, Russia, Kyrgyzstan and Kazakhstan to study medicine and other streams of education," he added.
